PURPOSE: The purpose of this event is to support the latest information about best practices in residential and community services that result in sustained positive outcomes post-discharge for youth and families receiving residential interventions. Participants will include leaders and clinical staff of residential and community programs, policy makers, funders, advocates, families and youth.

Desired Outcome: Attendees will leave the training event with practical strategies to improve policies and practices in their residential and/or community programs or oversight/funding agencies.

Family Advocate Feedback Feedback from 1st Event: The representatives from around the country really made me feel tremendously proud of what we do. I came away from the conference feeling refreshed and full of ideas after hearing from all of you, and knowing there is such strong support for the parents' point of view. You are all inspirational.

THE ANNIE E. CASEY FOUNDATION

This event is funded in part by the Annie E. Casey Foundation, a private philanthropy that creates a brighter future for the nation's children, families and communities. We thank the Casey Foundation for its support.

Our host, American Training, Inc., is a strong proponent of BBI principles and practices, and has endorsed our BBI Joint Resolution.
