

ACRC's 2022 Award Nomination Process

Albert E. Trieschman Award

As always, we will give the Albert E. Trieschman Award as a living memorial to Al Trieschman that would both commemorate and carry on his dedication to the development and enhancement of the role of the hands-on child care worker in the residential treatment of children.

Al Trieschman received his Doctorate in Psychology from Harvard in 1960 and shortly after founded the Walker School in 1961. His work led him to author two classic books, "The Other 23 Hours" and "Children Away From Home." He considered himself to be first and foremost a child care worker, then a teacher and a mentor. He was a sought-after presenter and was considered the best at his achievements. His colleagues around the country continue to refer to his writings and instruction as the model for residential care. Al's passing in 1984 was quite a loss to the world of residential treatment. We are proud to carry on his legacy of clinical excellence through this award.

Tricialouise Gurley Millard Youth Advocate Award

ACRC has lost a true friend and colleague in 2012 with the passing of Tricialouise Gurley Millard. Tricialouise was a dynamic, dedicated, enthusiastic change-maker for youth in the mental health field. Tricia embraced communication as one way to increase youth participation in decisions about their own mental health care. She was one of the first youth who served on a national discussion group to help inform communications and social marketing work. She worked passionately to improve the experiences of youth in care and she was a dedicated and insightful youth voice on ACRC's board of directors. This award will honor a youth advocate who has made a large contribution to the development and nurturance of resilience, hope and voice of residential youth, just as Tricialouise had done.

Nomination Process

We strongly encourage you to submit your nomination for the Albert E. Trieschman direct care award, or the Tricialouise Gurley Millard youth advocacy award to be given at this year's Annual Meeting in Louisville, KY. Please call our attention to your nominee(s) with a brief description of them and the work they have done.

Your candidate for the Albert E. Trieschman Award should be a direct care worker and have at least five years of involvement in the area of child care in residential treatment. Please call our attention to your nominee with a brief description of them and up to three endorsing letters.

Your candidate for the Tricialouise Gurley Millard Youth Advocate Award should be a young adult aged 18-30 and is an alumnus of a residential or community-based program. Please call our attention to your nominee with a brief description of him or her and up to three endorsing letters, one of which should be written by a youth who has been positively affected by the candidate.

As always, true to our commitment to family-driven, youth-guided philosophies, nominations that include words from those we serve (youth and families) tend to have greater weight during the consideration process.

The award winners will be honored at our Awards Luncheon on July 13th, 2022 in Louisville, KY. All of our 2022 award nominees will be recognized at that time as well. If you wish to send your nominee to the conference, and we certainly encourage you to do so, they will be our guest at the luncheon and will be introduced at that time.

The deadline for nominations is Friday, June 3rd, 2022.

Please send all nominations to ksisson@togetherthevoice.org
